

PhD studentship opportunities in August 2015 at Department of Mathematics, National University of Singapore (NUS)

The Department of Mathematics at NUS has been established since 1929. It has about 60 faculty members and it offers a wide selection of courses in undergraduate and graduate level covering wide areas of mathematical sciences.

It has been ranked 1st among Asian Universities and top 30 worldwide in 2012 QS World University Ranking. For more information about the department, please refer to:

<http://ww1.math.nus.edu.sg/>

The department recruits good students for its PhD programme with full scholarship in all areas of mathematics. It has a very stimulating research environment and many very active faculty members in research. For more details about research areas and the faculty members, please refer to:

The scholarship includes tuition fee waiver + S$2000 stipend per month before passing qualifying exam (QE) (and S$2500 stipend per month after passing QE). For very good students, the department can admit you into its PhD programme with TOEFL and GRE waived, i.e. if you are a very good student, you may be admitted into our PhD programme even though you do NOT take TOEFL and GRE tests!!

The admission exercise for August-intake 2015 will start soon. The standard deadline for application is November 15, 2014. If you are interested in applying for the PhD programme, please refer to the following webpage URL for more information.

As we have done in previous years, we exercise again an early admission offer commitment in this round. Our department will send faculty members to Beijing around/before June 1, 2014 to conduct an interview and then commit admission and scholarship offer to you in July 2014 for the August-intake 2015!!

For good students from good universities like your university, if you are interested in applying our PhD programme and want to be considered for the early offer admission, please submit your application online as soon as possible. Alternatively, you can send your transcript and your ranking in your class to the following persons:
